Congratulations to all Tunku Abdul Rahman University College ('TAR UC') graduands who are receiving their scrolls! Your achievement today marks a significant milestone and a new chapter in your life.

Every convocation ceremony at TAR UC is a cause for celebration and it is an inspiration to see all of you receive your scrolls and set your sight into the world. As you embark on this new journey of your life, it is comforting to know that your education journey at TAR UC has prepared you well with the necessary skillset and knowledge to succeed in your career and life.

For the past five decades, our Beyond Education learning philosophy has provided students with a unique and holistic education experience which has enabled them to excel in and out of the classroom, leading them to a fulfilling and purposeful life. Going forward as we start our new chapter as Tunku Abdul Rahman University of Management and Technology, or TAR UMT, we will continue championing this philosophy while also setting a broader yet defined focus for the next 10 years with TAR UC's 10-Year Roadmap, which will chart a new direction for the institution – to be a leading university that transforms the future.

However, I am confident that with the knowledge and experiences you have accumulated throughout your studies at TAR UC, you are well-prepared to embrace these changes and remain relevant as you navigate through this ever-changing landscape.

Once again, congratulations to all graduands and may you have a bright future ahead.
