

18 February 2020

Building solid corporate governance values

DRAWING strength from more than 50 years of academic excellence, Tunku Abdul Rahman University College's (TAR UC) Faculty of Accountancy, Finance and Business (FAFB) cements its reputation as a leading provider of professional business education with its Master of Corporate Governance (MCG) programme.

"The MCG not only instils the necessary skills and knowledge in our graduates, it also provides them with opportunities for continuing professional development and enhancing lifelong self-development to lead changes and transformation for the nation, while tackling the challenges of the digital age," says FAFB dean Wong Hwa Kiong.

Graduating with a Bachelor in Corporate Administration (Hons) from TAR UC, Rashwin Loke Yew Han shares that the reason he chose to enrol in the MCG programme was because it would set him apart from other jobseekers in the highly competitive global marketplace.

"What makes MCG stand out is its focus on the pillars of corporate governance – transparency, accountability, integrity and sustainability which are significant with regards to current issues and the state of global affairs," shares Rashwin, who recently completed the MCG programme. Gaining the right knowledge and skills is a wise investment as it will help me dive straight into building my desired career."

His classmate, Jeffitron Low Boon Tiong, also a Bachelor of Corporate Administration (Hons) graduate from TAR UC, shares his reasons for furthering his studies.

"I decided to pursue my postgraduate degree in corporate governance to broaden my views and knowledge of current issues. The experience has widened my perspective and helped me further develop my soft skills such as critical thinking and analysis, problem-solving and teamwork, which I feel is essential when I enter the corporate world upon graduating from the MCG programme," he says.

Low shares that his experience at TAR UC has widened his perspective and helped him further develop his soft skills, which he feels is essential when he enters the corporate world.

Both Loke and Low are graduating from the MCG programme this month.

What makes the MCG programme truly compelling is that graduates of the programme will receive not only a master's degree from TAR UC, but also full exemption by the Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators (ICSA). In addition, MCG graduates will be awarded the Malaysian Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators (MAICSA) Grad ICSA Status, which is an internationally recognised professional qualification.

The ICSA is the leading recognised professional body for Chartered Secretaries and Administrators in the United Kingdom and throughout the world. The MAICSA was founded in 1959 and is an affiliate body of ICSA, UK, limited only to members of the institute residing in Malaysia.

■ For more information, visit TAR UC's Open Day from Mar 5 to 29 at all TAR UC campuses in Kuala Lumpur, Penang, Perak, Johor, Pahang and Sabah, or drop by the institution's booth at major education fairs. Attractive academic merit scholarships and sibling discounts are available for eligible applicants. Alternatively, visit www.tarc.edu.my

Loke opines that his time at TAR UC is an investment in gaining the right knowledge and skills so he can dive straight into building his desired career.

