

TAR University College In the Limelight

theSun

Benefits for TAR UC quantity survey grads

6 AUGUST 2019

TUNKU Abdul Rahman University College (TAR UC) signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Board of Quantity Surveyors Malaysia (BQSM). A signing ceremony took place with Prof. Ir. Dr. Lee Sze Wei representing the university as its president, and Adjunct Prof. Sr. Dato' Aziz Abdullah representing BQSM as its president. Works Minister Baru Bian stood as witness.

With the collaboration, newly graduated TAR UC Bachelor of Quantity Surveying (Hons) programme students will be able to attain a professional membership with BQSM swiftly. They have the advantage of being ahead in their journey into their careers as professional quantity surveyors. Bulk registrations with BQSM will be carried out for recent grads of the mentioned Bachelor Honours Degree programme who will be registered as Provisional Quantity Surveyors under the Quantity Surveyors (Amendment) Act 2015.

Additionally, BQSM has agreed to waive registration renewal fees and Continuing Professional Development (CPD) points for the first year of renewal for all TAR UC quantity surveying grads.

"This process allows students to be registered with BQSM immediately upon graduation, reducing the waiting time it usually takes to complete such registration," said Faculty of Built Environment Dean, Assoc. Prof. Sr. Ooi Lay Yong. Students will now be able to complete all registration procedures even before they complete their studies.

"We hope that the cooperative partnership will contribute to the enhancement of quantity surveying education, the profession, and the economic and social development in Malaysia," Dr. Lee concluded.

From left: Dato' Aziz, Bian, Dr. Lee and Ooi at the MoU signing ceremony.

