

Professor Philip Jones
Vice-Chancellor
Sheffield Hallam University, UK

Title of Keynote

Emerging Trends in Higher Education Learning and Teaching: An Overview

Biodata

Professor Philip Jones took up office as Vice-Chancellor at Sheffield Hallam University on 1 August 2007.

He has ten years of experience in the senior management of three Universities in the United Kingdom (University of Sheffield, Durham University and Sheffield Hallam University). His academic background is in Law and Sociology. His academic interests are in quality assurance and enhancement, teaching and learning and student experience.

Since joining Sheffield Hallam University, he has become the Director of Creative Sheffield, the National Science Learning Centre and Yorkshire Universities. He is a member of the UUK Teacher Education Advisory Group (TEAG) and the UUK Student Experience Policy Committee (SEPC). He is also a member of the All Party Parliamentary University Group (APUG) and the University Alliance (mission group). He is also involved in numerous local and regional groups and committees.

He has recently been appointed as the Chair of the Quality in Higher Education Group sponsored by Universities UK, Guild HE, Higher Education Funding Council (HEFCE), and Department of Employment & Learning in Northern Ireland (DELNI). He will also become Chair of Yorkshire Universities in August 2010.